

ATTEMPT ALL QUESTIONS

1. Briefly explain the advantages of a systematic analysis of a problem 5 Marks
2. Explain the importance of a clear statement of a problem 3 Marks
3. Enumerate the points that should be included in the statement of a problem 3 Marks
4. Explain the reasons for reviewing available literature and other information during the preparation of a research proposal. 4 Marks
5. What are the different types of research variables, and what are they used for? 4 Marks
6. Briefly explain the following: general objectives, specific objectives and hypotheses by giving your own examples. 6 Marks
7. Briefly explain the characteristics of specific research objectives. 5 Marks